

The Kaplan Commitment<sup>SM</sup> Statement.

At Kaplan University, we are committed to your education, your goals — you.

It's a firm commitment built on five key tenets. These are core principles that ground us, guide us, and ensure our dedication to helping you succeed.

1. We believe in your talent.

Kaplan University was founded on the belief that every person with talent, regardless of age or circumstance, deserves the chance to develop it. We recognize the value of real-world experience and previously attained credit through prior learning assessment to ensure no eligible student wastes time or money on courses and skills already attained.

2. We believe if we're not right for you then you shouldn't be financially obligated to us.

The Kaplan Commitment<sup>SM</sup> is a new way for you to get to know us and for us to get to know you. There's no financial obligation beyond the application fee.* It's available to new students, online or on campus. It's simple.

Here's how it works:

Enrollment: You'll attend real classes for real credits. These classes count toward your degree if completed.

Week 1: You'll begin the 3-week introductory period, during which you'll get exposed to our curriculum, faculty, and classroom or online platforms. If at any point during the introductory period you decide we're not right for you, you can opt out with no tuition cost or other financial obligation to Kaplan University, except for the application fee.

Week 3: This is the checkpoint week. It marks the end of your introductory period, and is the time to let us officially know if you no longer wish to continue. Otherwise, if you're meeting our academic standards, and have submitted all required documentation, you will move forward with your Kaplan University education.

Week 10: The first term ends. If you meet all academic and course requirements, you will earn your course credits and continue your degree path.

A different school of thought.®

KAPLAN UNIVERSITY

3. We believe in support that begins before you enroll and prepares you for success after you graduate.

- Prior to enrollment we'll provide resources you can use to gain insights from our faculty and alumni.
- You'll get personalized support from a network of Financial, Education, and Admissions Advisors. They take into account the individual demands of your life. Whether it's explaining your financial aid options or helping select courses that are right for you, you will not be on your own.
- Learn from professors who bring valuable, real-world experience.
- Take advantage of career services including resume workshops and interviewing and networking webinars.
- Connect with our alumni network.

4. We believe a university should adapt to its students — not the other way around.

We understand nontraditional students — working parents, late bloomers, career changers — have obligations beyond school. As a university that's student driven for driven students, you'll attend classes in a flexible learning environment with schedules designed to fit your life. With the freedom to take classes on campus, or online, on your terms, you can meet academic requirements without sacrificing personal or professional duties.

5. We believe in surrounding you with faculty and advisors dedicated to your success.

- Our online math, writing, science, and technology centers offer support virtually whenever, wherever you have an Internet connection.
- Our professors are just a click away — you can email directly from the classroom or contact them during online office hours. Campus students have access in person through regular office hours.
- Curriculum designers draw on industry advisory boards to keep our career-focused programs up-to-date and relevant.

At Kaplan University, we are a different school of thought.® We want your experience to be as rewarding, transparent, and positive as we can possibly make it. This is our commitment, in writing, to you.

*Classes count toward a degree if satisfactorily completed. No credits are earned if the student withdraws during the introductory period (3 weeks for undergraduate students), which begins day one of the first term. Students who choose to continue their studies at the University will need to meet specific requirements. Graduate programs not included. Additional terms may apply to international and non-U.S. citizen students. For further information, see the University Catalog available at kaplanuniversity.edu.

Application fee waived for campus and learning center students through December 31, 2016.
