Commencement Speaker

Dr. Peter Smith

Dr. Peter Smith serves as senior scholar and advisor to Kaplan University President, Dr. Betty Vandebosch, and was also the founding president of Open College at Kaplan University. Before assuming his current responsibilities, Dr. Smith acted as senior vice president of Kaplan Higher Education and was responsible for the strategic and academic development for the global education business. Prior to joining Kaplan University in 2007, he was the assistant director general for education at the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) in Paris, leading many of the education efforts for the United Nations. Some of Dr. Smith's prior accomplishments in the field of education include serving as the founding president of California State University, Monterey Bay; dean of the Graduate School of Education at The George Washington University; and founder of the Community College of Vermont. He also was a senior fellow at the American Council on Education. Dr. Smith holds a Doctor of Education in Administration Planning and Social Policy and a Master of Arts in Teaching from the Harvard University Graduate School of Education, as well as an undergraduate degree from Princeton University. In addition to his distinguished career in education, Dr. Smith has enjoyed great success in the political arena, serving terms as Vermont state senator, lieutenant governor, and US congressman.

Military Recognition

The challenge coin is a tradition in the military which started following WWI. Initially, coins were awarded by commanders for above and beyond accomplishment. This tradition continues to be popular in both military and veteran culture. Kaplan University's challenge coin is presented to graduates who have served in our armed forces, or their spouses, in honor of their sacrifice to our country and academic achievement. Please stop at the Military Booth in the lobby to pick up a coin after the ceremony.

Gift of Knowledge Program

At Kaplan University, we believe that investment in our employees and their education is an important component in the success of our community of professionals. The Gift of Knowledge program helps employees develop academically while they continue to develop professionally at Kaplan University.

Kaplan University Graduate Candidates

The awarding of degrees to the candidates' names in this program is contingent upon the satisfactory completion of the appropriate requirements by each candidate, as verified by the Registrar. The listing of a student's name in this program in no way implies or insures his or her graduation or the award of honors.

*Students at the American Institute of Commerce, later known as Kaplan University.
Davenport, Iowa. October 7, 1938.*

Kaplan University History

Kaplan University's roots trace back to 1937 with the founding of the American Institute of Commerce. Today, Kaplan University serves over 38,000 online and campus-based students throughout the country and around the world. The University, which has its main campus in Davenport, Iowa, and its academic headquarters in Chicago, is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission (www.hlcommission.org).

Kaplan University strives to help adult students unlock their talent by providing a practical, student-centered education that prepares them for careers in fast-growing industries. Graduates receive comprehensive education through disciplined, professional programs of instruction. The University was founded to provide professional business training and has achieved this objective for over 75 years by keeping abreast of employment demands, employer needs, teaching methods, and the use of various educational resources and industry-standard technology and equipment.

In addition to many associate's and bachelor's degree programs, the University offers several online master's degree programs in business, legal studies, education, nursing, and criminal justice, among others. Concord Law School, Kaplan University's online law school, also offers Juris Doctor and Executive Juris DoctorSM programs. Kaplan University provides students a suite of personalized services and rich academic support through online tutoring, writing and mathematics labs, and web-based career planning diagnostics that help students craft a course of study to maximize their career potential.

Kaplan University has 14 campuses in Iowa, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Missouri, Nebraska, and Wisconsin, and a Kaplan University Learning Center in Maryland. The Learning Center is designed to provide onsite support services and some classroom-based courses for local Kaplan University online students.

Alumni Creed

As an alumnus/alumna, I will support the values of Kaplan University by being a living example of a lifelong learner. I will use my knowledge to strive for excellence, and will do so with integrity. I will find opportunities to encourage others to unlock their talent through the pursuit of education, and I will proudly share the results of my academic achievements.

Kaplan University Faculty and Academic Administration

Listed below are all full-time faculty members and academic administration personnel, in addition to adjunct faculty members attending the commencement ceremony. Please note: not all faculty members and administrators are in attendance.

Academic Regalia and Dress

Robes and hoods worn during the commencement are steeped in a tradition that dates back to the eleventh century, when the monks who administered Oxford University in England wore shoulder capes to protect themselves from scratches when they gathered alms and hoods to protect their shaven heads from the cold. Eventually, the garb became daily attire and served as insulation from the damp and cold inside the University's walls, and as identification that one had permission to pass into specific college buildings.

In the United States, the academic robes and hoods were first adopted as ceremonial attire for college officials in 1754 at the institution now known as Columbia University. In 1885, students in many of the country's colleges and universities launched a movement to permit graduating candidates to wear robes and caps during the commencement. Eight years later, an intercollegiate commission of university officials adopted the country's first code of color and design for the academic garb. Faculty soon adopted the custom of wearing gowns at commencement and other academic ceremonies. Although the code has been revised many times, today's academic regalia represent those modifications accepted in 1960 and adopted by nearly 95 percent of the nation's postsecondary institutions.

In the United States today, the academic robe is most often black; some institutions, however, sanction the use of specific colors. The length of the robe, the width of the sleeves' borders, and the length of the hood all increase with each advanced degree. Colors in the hood identify both the specific field of study in which the degree was earned, as shown by the velvet border, as well as the institution that granted it, as shown by the lining. The following color table provides a key to the fields of study according to the Intercollegiate Code:

Color of the Cap's Tassel and the Hood's Velvet Border That Represent the Field of Study

The Mace

The mace was originally a medieval weapon that was carried by bishops of the church into battle as a protective device. The mace has survived for more than 900 years in a shape similar to that of a club, which commemorates its very early use.

In later times, the mace was carried by sergeants-at-arms who were bodyguards of kings and others of high rank. Both Richard I of England and Phillip II of France ordered their sergeant-at-arms to carry a ceremonial mace. Legislative bodies such as the English Parliament also adopted the ceremonial mace as part of the pomp and circumstance associated with opening the meeting of the body.

As universities developed during this same period, they too adopted the mace for use in academic processions. Today, the mace is carried by the Macebearer who leads the platform party, which includes the University President and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the graduation ceremony.

Throughout history, special craftsmen were presented with the task of decorating the mace so it carefully embodied the history, traditions, and symbols of the academic institution. Often, leading citizens or alumni of a university would donate the mace at the time of a special event.
